Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 21 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry, hot with sunny spells on Wednesday.

Today:
Another fine and mainly dry day with unbroken sunshine. Into the afternoon some high cloud moving in from the west, whereas in the extreme east patchy cloud will develop, bringing the odd and potential thundery shower. Feeling hot for most. Maximum temperature 32 deg C (90 deg F).

Tonight:
Any daytime showers clearing during the evening to leave a dry night with mainly clear skies. Patches of high cloud over the west throughout the night. Another warm night. Minimum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Thursday:
Some patchy high cloud, but for most another dry and largely sunny day. A small chance of a heavy shower developing later in the east. Another hot day. Maximum temperature 32 deg C (90 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Another largely dry and hot day on Friday with sunny spells and some isolated showers. Rain, perhaps thundery arriving on Friday evening and into the weekend. Cooling down.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.